

STEPHEN GRIFFIN is a former CPA and investor who has invested in numerous sports-related companies. He has served as a board member and in executive roles for several companies.

His first book, FRONT ROW SEAT: Greed and Corruption in a Youth Sports Company, has won accolades as a comprehensive case study in business ethics, fraud, forensic accounting, seeking work-life balance and human resiliency.

His second book, LOST LOCKER ROOM: The Collapse of Global Premier Soccer was released in June 2021 and is already being recognized as a seminal work across several business disciplines. It has been impactful in the U.S. Department of Justice's criminal cases involving conspiracy to commit immigration fraud, identity theft, perjury, and obstruction of justice.

TOPICS

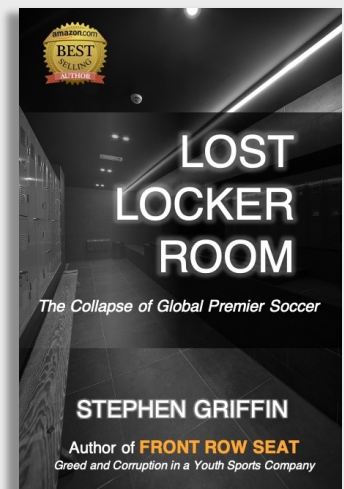

- Accounting fraud & forensics
- Corporate governance
- Business ethics
- People and culture
- Private equity investing
- The youth sports industry
- Work-life balance & Parkinson's Disease

SUGGESTED QUESTIONS

- How did you first identify the fraud?
- Discuss the forensic procedures and findings
- What elements of the internal control environment allowed for fraud?
- Where were the board members?
- What was the impact on the business?
- Discuss the criminal activities
- Discuss the various constituents impacted and their respective interests

LINKS

- ALLEY101.com
- StephenGriffinAuthor.com

The
Boston
Globe

WSJ
IRS

